A few brave souls decided to combat the elements and participate in today's competition. It was cold; It was windy; And, it was good that I stayed indoors!!!
LOL

As a reminder: Due to the club's Christmas tournament, there will be no Dogfight, nor Modified Skins competition, tomorrow (Sunday, December 12). I talked with Matt and Jeoff today about latecomers for the Christmas tourney. They said they'd be glad to help pair up groups for anyone that wants to come out for the tournament; however, please call the pro shop early in the morning and let them know you'd like to play. For those of you who've not played in this 'folly', you're missing out! It is one of the most enjoyable tournaments, and by far the most fun tournament, they host every year. I urge each of you to participate.
